SECTION 5: Room Labels and Identification

- Each photo submitted is labeled and captioned (e.g., "Front Door," "Suite 1 Entry," "Main Workstation Area," "Storage Room")
- Labels on the floor plan match the labels on the photos
- The designated principal office room is consistently identified by the same name or number across all documents

SECTION 6: Supporting Materials Tying the Room to the Business

- Utility bill showing the property address as the service location
- Property tax bill or deed showing the owner's name and the property address
- Business license or registration showing this address as the business address (if available)
- Any mail or correspondence addressed to the business at this property address

Key Rules to Keep in Mind

- The room must show it is actively used for business and not empty, residential, or storage only
- If the room is inside a larger building with other occupants, photos and floor plan must clearly show which specific room belongs to the business
- The door must be lockable and the space must be accessible only to the business

- SBA may conduct an unannounced site visit and the room must look the same in person as in the photos
- The space must have sufficient furniture and equipment to accommodate the number of employees claimed to work there
- Before submitting, verify that the property address is designated maps.certify.sba.gov as a HUBZone by checking the official SBA HUBZone Map at
